Happy Red Nose Day!

Firstly, a big thank you again for your on-going support of the school and staff during the two days of industrial action this week... and what a wonderful Friday it is! After 2 days of a school with no children, the school playground and corridors were filled with chatter and laughter as the whole school celebrated Comic Relief - Red Nose Day, as well as St Patrick's Day! The children and staff were dressed either in red, and some in green, and some in both, and there were lots of red noses on show! We have sold almost 500 red noses, and also raised lots of money from on the gate donations. Thank you, as always, to the Millfields community - all the money will be going towards Comic Relief charities!

Also, the School Book Fair arrived today and was open before school, with lots of children already buying books! The Book Fair will be open for the next week, before and after school and during Parents Evenings on Tuesday 21st and Wednesday 22nd March. If you have not yet signed up to see your child's teacher, please do so before 8:00pm on Monday evening via your SCOPay account. The actual meetings will be in person in your child's class. During Parents' Evening, you will be able to browse the Book Fair, buy some delicious food from the school kitchen, and also buy a ticket or two for our annual Easter Egg Raffle!

There has been great excitement in the Nursery over the last 10 days as the chicks hatched and the children were able to observe, count and draw them! Every time I visit the Nursery, there is always a child talking to them and loving them!

On Monday, we had a visit from the new Hackney Assistant Director for School Standards and Improvement. He had a tour of the school and as always the children were delightful - asked lots of questions and showed great pride in sharing their learning. Jason commented that from his observations and interactions, and what we already know, is that Millfields is an inclusive and creative, true community school.

A big thank you to Lovelace Class who held their Class Sharing Assembly on Tuesday this week - it was a great production, the children looked great and worked hard to entertain and inform us all. Thanks to all the parents and carers who attended. Well done Lovelace!

Finally, have a lovely weekend, and have a good rest! Take care, keep well and stay safe. Jane
