Play is the way at Millfields!

Thanks to our long standing partnership with Inspire, yesterday, we were able to send 3 classes to the New Scientist Live Show at the Excel Centre. The children came back very excited by all the activities and workshops that they had taken part in that included a slime pit, making kites and an electricity activity. We hope that this experience may encourage all our pupils but especially more girls to be interested and confident in STEM subjects.

Assemblies this week have focused on Harvest Festival and as always, we are collecting food donations for the Hackney Food Bank. Please bring in tinned food including vegetables and fruit, sealed packets and boxes of dry food –pasta, pulses, rice, as well as toilet-tries, nappies, baby wipes and washing powder to the main reception collecting point all next week. Thanks in advance for your support.

If you have a child in Year 5, you will hopefully have been to one of the 3 organised meetings to inform you of the residential trip in March. The deadline for £20 deposit is today so please pay at the main office.

This weekend is the Clapton Jumble Trail that will be raising money for Millfields. The event is taking place around Clapton from 11am until 4pm on Sunday 23rd September. There will be stalls in the school playground including a uniform sale.

Finally, thank you for supporting us with the introduction of early closing on Fridays. This additional time for staff has meant that teachers can meet with support staff to ensure that there is good communication and handover of information for all pupils but especially SEND pupils who have 1:1 support. It has also been a fantastic opportunity for the support staff to receive a range of training. This term the topics will include strategies to teach reading, phonics, early Maths, using the interactive whiteboard to support learning and developing confidence in writing. All staff have reported that the additional time and training is already having an impact on ensuring progress for all pupils.

Now that the weather is getting colder, please ensure that your child is wearing warm clothing and has an appropriate coat. Please put your child's name on all of their clothing. There is already lots of lost property, so please do have a look in the big yellow box outside the main entrance if your child has lost something!

Have a good weekend. Best Wishes, Jane
