It's been a Creative Week at Millfields

There have been lots of very creative and imaginative art activities happening this week at Millfields! Creative Week activities have all focussed around the exploration of nature and art. We have all been thinking about how we can reconnect to their natural world, the importance of nature and how to understand our place in the natural world. We have been observing and drawing the natural world around us – pot plants in school, trees in the playground and all of the wonderful natural world in our local parks and green spaces. We have also been looking at how different artists have represented and used nature through different mediums to express their creativity. Some of our classes visited artworks in the National Gallery or the British Museum to give them inspiration.

Each year group was given a focus. The work created in each class and year group for our Art in nature theme is all made from recycled materials, particularly cardboard! Thank you for all your donations – we are brimming with junk: card, paper and boxes that will be the basis of this year's art installation for Creative Night. The work created by each and every child includes lots and lots of pieces of art based on famous sculptors and artists. The amalgamation of all the artwork will be displayed for you all to see on 'Creative Evening' that takes place on Monday 3rd February. Entry is by ticket only and there are 15 minute time slots so that you are able to have the time and space to appreciate and immerse yourself in the installation. Tickets are on sale now from the main office – adults £1 and accompanied children are free. Tickets are selling fast!

There will also be a selection of school meal dishes on sale - meat and veg curry, mac and cheese, chicken dumpling soup and jerk chicken and rice. If you want to bring a take-away container to eat at home, then please do.

Thank you very much to all the parents and carers who have volunteered their time this week to support classes and create the centrepiece of our exhibition– your support is greatly appreciated.

Thank you also to the parents and carers who came to the Maths Whizz workshop earlier this week – I hope you found it useful. There is an 'E-safety' workshop about online identity and keeping your child safe online on Tuesday 4th February – please call the office to book a place.

Finally, a reminder that it is Hispanic Week between the 10th –14th February. If you can help out by coming in to talk to a class about your experiences about living or visiting a Spanish-speaking country, please contact our Spanish teacher Belen Fernandez on email: bfernandez@millfields.hackney.sch.uk Hope to see you on Monday at the Creative Night event.

Have a good weekend.
Best Wishes, Jane

Does your child suffer with anxiety? Would you value support to know how best to assist your child with their concerns?
 We are starting a short parent programme around this topic on a Friday morning.
 If this is something you may be interested in please email Debi on dcookhorn@millfields.hackney.sch.uk and she will get in touch with you.
