Millfields Learns E-safety

Firstly, Kung Hei Fat Choi to all our families who celebrated Chinese New Year earlier this week. This year is the 'Year of the Pig', so if this is your year, this means you have a beautiful personality and are blessed with good fortune.

On Monday, the children who have been representing the school in cross-country events over the last term took part in the final meeting. The results are in and Millfields made a fantastic effort although they didn't regain the top spot, they came a very close second! Well done to the whole team but a special mention to Louis Reynolds who was overall boy's runner up!

As you probably know from your child, we marked National Safer Internet Day on Tuesday and with the use of social media being very much in the news at the moment, the children have certainly taken their learning in this area very seriously. Each class discussed the importance of e-safety and being aware of the pros and cons of the internet. This was reinforced by Hepworth Class Sharing assembly today which was a fantastic display of learning about e-safety and staying safe online. The each told us a fact about why the internet and social media can be a good thing, but more importantly warned us to stay safe and be aware of the dangers of being online. Thank you Hepworth Class for sharing your learning and for the brilliant singing (and dancing) that accompanied the online safety song! Please speak to your child about how they use the internet, how they stay safe online and make sure that you know what they are doing on a PC, tablet or phone. There are links to websites with more information on the Millfields website.

Anning Class Sharing Assembly also took place today and the Year 6 children shared their learning about how each of the organs in the body work. The visual nature of how the heart and lungs work was especially exciting and engaging. Well done to them all! Also this week, Year 1 classes visited The Orbit at QEOP as part of their topic work on the local area. The children really enjoyed the trip and were able to tell me lots of the buildings and areas of London that they could see from the top!

It is Hispanic week next week, and you should all have received a letter explaining what the children will be doing, and asking if you can help, as well as a Hispanic Quiz –hope you enjoy researching the answers over the weekend.

Finally, it is the PSA Silent Disco this evening so hope to see many of you and your children there enjoying the fun!

Have a good weekend. Best Wishes, Jane
