Read our exclusive interviews with Jane, our esteemed Headteacher!

Q1:Are you surprised by the polls?

I'm a little bit surprised about the toilets because the children are obsessed with them and I am pleased to see that there wasn't much concern about the learning because people like their learning here. I am quite surprised about people talking about trips and I'm curious to know what their saying about trips.

Q2:If you'd give any tips to the candidates what would it be?

To be clear on what your pledges are, to make sure everyone in your team is on the same page and that there are three pledges. Also make sure they are simple and have at least one thing everyone can aspire to.

Q3:Do you think Sukhi and Solly made a difference to the school?

Undoubtedly - they are a good team and its good that we had both a Prime minister and deputy with similar ideas. They made some definite changes to the school and they enjoyed working with the school champions.

Q4: Are you excited for the new prime minster?

Yes! It will be great to hear their ideas moving forward. It is easy to say that certain things will happen but it's really hard to think of the steps needed to achieve these ideas. Additionally, I'm always excited about the speeches at the hustings!

Q5. Is there anything else that you'd like to add?

I just love the buzz around the school when it's democracy week. - everyone is talking about democracy and I love listening to the children's ideas and opinions!

Stars Of The Show

LEADER: Louis Reynolds

DEPUTY: Ruben M. & Isobel P.

Reach For Mars With The Stars

Louis Reynolds, the leader of Stars Of The Show, is very confident that he will become Millfields' new school prime minister. This is because he has been deputy leader of a previous party that came in second place last year. He is determined to accomplish his pledges to make this school a better place.

He came across as being very confident but could too much confidence work against him?

Sky High Blue

LEADER: Kit Crane

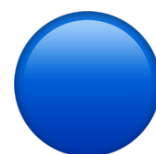

DEPUTY: Saoirse Barclay

Blue Sky Thinking

Kit Crane has been voted the new party leader of Sky High Blue and is confident he can win the place of prime minister and lead the school next year along with fulfilling his pledges to make Millfields Community School a better place.

Believing in his party's manifesto, he has included ideas that what other people would want - not just his own thoughts. Kit is very excited about the week ahead.

Trusty Triangles

LEADER: Ariane Kediri

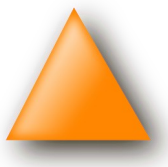

DEPUTY: Elvis Caress

Trust Us And We Will Deliver

Ariane wants to become PM because she thinks that it is a great opportunity to change the school and listen to every persons idea and she want to find out what people think. Even if she doesn't become PM she will still gain valuable experience.

What Ariane would like to change in the school is the pink benches: she would like to fix them and every person who is upset or alone they can go and sit down on the bench. A person will come and talk with them to find out why they are upset. She also wants the pupils, at the beginning of the term, to choose the school dinners.

Powerful People

LEADER: India Bottici

DEPUTY: Ronita Trim

Make A Difference

India want to be prime minister so she can make Millfields an eco-friendly world. She wants to stop bullying by having a kindness week where you have to be kind to someone that week. India thinks she is confident but accepts that she still needs to work on her ability to speak in public. However she thinks that her experience on camera will help her overcome this issue.

India also thinks that her deputy Ronita will help her leadership and she says that her team is powerful, passionate and persuasive. However will not having being a M.C before be too big a jump?

Revolutionary Reds

LEADER: Annie Cherkoff

DEPUTY: Willow Wilson

Rate The Reds; Making Changes For The Best

Annie Cherkoff thinks that if she becomes the prime she will have a chance to express her feelings and improve the school.

She strongly believes that litter picking with schools and helping the environment should be her main goal to help the community and school. Ensuring our school is a clean, tidy and safe place to work is vital according to Annie!

“ Apparently Gt has been bribing people for votes for a certain team...”

“ A certain musically minded teacher thinks we may have a female prime minister this year...”

“ Is a certain party focusing on animals too much?!”

Suffragettes: 100 Year Anniversary

Before 1918, women didn't have the right to vote. Lots of women worked very hard to get their rights but there was this one woman who's name was Millicent Fawcett.

Fawcett believed in peaceful protest. She tirelessly campaigned for women's rights to vote until a group of ladies named the Suffragettes who did terrible things just to vote. These things included: getting run over by a horse, starving themselves in prison and having numerous marches.

The suffragettes fought for middle-class and property-owning women. Led by people like Emmeline Pankhurst, their influences included Russian methods like hunger strikes.

After roughly ten years of fighting for their rights, the Suffragettes finally won the battle and had the right to vote. In fact, New Zealand was one of the first countries to let women vote. The Suffragettes battle will be remembered for many years to come.

Additionally, three days ago, there were marches to remember the suffragettes in Cardiff, Belfast, London and Edinburgh the streets were full of green, white and purple - the suffragette colours.

Women's rights are still not equal to men's but we feminists are all working to make it fair thanks to the Suffragettes and our ancestors.
