WHAT IS DEMOCRACY?

Democracy

redpanels.com

As you know, this week is democracy week . Throughout this week, we will have fun creating and supporting our parties—which will each have a candidate for prime minister. At the end of the week, we will be voting for our favourite candidate who we think has the best pledges. Democracy is all about giving everyone a voice; when you vote you have a chance to make your voice heard. Many years ago (in the fifth century BC) democracy was created by the Ancient Greeks. We are still using it now and it is very important. Out of all our five candidates, only one can win...

Dishing Out The Juice!

An exclusive interview with Asmaa, the current Prime minister

Q1. What skills do you want the new candidates to have?

To listen to everyone's ideas and opinions

Q2. What pledges do you want the new candidates to carry out?

Less litter, raise money for local charities and work towards ending pollution.

Q3. Do you have a specific person or party you personally support?

No, because I believe everyone has potential.

Q4. What are your opinions about last week's election?

I support Labour.

Q5. Many people have said you've not done a lot as our prime minister, what are your thoughts on this?

I always take all of your opinions into consideration. I do believe I've done a lot of good things for our school!

Q6. What advice would you like to give to our candidates?

Make sure everyone is happy with your ideas before making it final and generally be kind.

OUT WITH THE OLD IN WITH THE NEW

As many of you know, the Year 6s are helping various groups around the school. Their job is to assist the parties in each class and are teaching them the values of democracy.

'They helped make sure everyone was involved and were helpful': Joe Bagshaw from Newcastle said when questioned by reporter.

'Funny, helpful and inclusive' Joni Harrison, Winchester.
