Your vote is your voice !

Well done to all the people that spoke earlier today. Everyone is very impressed at how well the candidates explained their ideas. As you all know this morning was the hustings. However some of you may not know what hustings are. A husting is when all candidates get to explain and reveal their manifesto.

HUSTINGS ARE HERE!

The sound and excitement develop as teachers join in representing their teams proudly. Around me children shout for their leaders and make up songs for their party together - soon enough, they will be silenced for the speeches from the candidates.

Five minutes later and the sound gets to its highest; so loud in fact that a girl next to me just lost her voice completely.

Now silence as Joe introduces the candidates, followed by cheering. It's fair to say that the leaders and their deputies do their parties proud!

Q&A with Vicky Noakes

By Fatima & Nancy

Q₁. Do you think it's fair that our current PM has been criticised for her lack of improvement for our school?

No, because I think all the impact that Asmaa's hard work has had on this school isn't credited enough.

Q₂. Do you personally support a specific person or party?

Not at this moment in time but I support any party with an inspirational leader and that has an environmental stance.

Q₃. Are you going to rely on the upcoming PM to organise managing our school during these budget cuts and why?

We look forward to working with the next PM to also help tackle the future challenges.

Q₄. What have YOU done to support our school during these budget cuts?

We've send out info though our school website, emails, letters and meetings to help inform families to support parties such as The Labour Party who are against budget cuts.

Bribery!!! Orange Energy have been discovered dealing Doritos for votes!

We are warning you, Oranges, there will (Probably Not) be consequences...

Gordon Murray, the political advisor of the Orange Energy party, quoted : Don’t believe the polls...’

What is he talking about? Chris Belgrave heard this comment and retorted : ‘Which ones?’ But the mysterious Gordon had no answer..... What is he hiding?!

Poster War #2

The guileful Greens have been slyly taking down Rapping Reds posters, hiding them and then replacing them! This can get your party disqualified so take our advice and stop it now!
