PARTIES IMPRESS IN MORNING PRESS CONFERENCE

In today's exclusive press conference there were stutters, giggles but a whole lot of well thought out answers from all of the candidates. Vicky Noakes and children from both KS1 and KS2 came to the conference and had a chance to ask the candidates their own questions.

Roz's Reaction: Q&A

We asked Roz about what she thinks of the elections and democracy week. Here's what we found out.

After asking if she has any specific person, party or candidate she personally supports, she said 'I don't know their pledges yet so I'm not sure. However, I like the colour purple and I think Suki from Rapping Reds has a chance because she has already done this and knows what's coming.'

When asked if democracy week was necessary for primary school and she replied that it is important for children to understand this and thinks it is easier to learn if you are actually part of it instead of reading about it.

Many people have said that Asmaa (our current prime minister) has not changed very much. Roz said that she does not agree with this and believes that Asmaa has given the students a voice even if she hasn't changed much. She did not have the opportunity to make a big change.

We also asked Roz what she thought on the recent election. She said that she was pleased with the outcome on Labour's votes. She voted for Labour and does not want the Conservatives in Number 10.

Debi's point of view...

Debi has a very important role in this election. She thinks that the manifestos are better than the previous year's, [toilets seem to be an important thing].

Excited, enthusiastic and ecstatic, she says that Rapping Reds and Greener is Greater are her favourite and that it is nice to see a range of cultural different candidates hoping to be PM. Also, she said a big 'Well done' to the Yr 6 helpers.

It is nice to see Suki didn't give up from last year -Debi

I would like the children to think BIG ! -Debi

Our apologies to the
GREENER IS GREATER party
for miswriting their name yesterday

TOUGH QUESTIONS

An exclusive press conference was held on the 14th of June 2017 and everybody was there! The candidates were asked particularly difficult questions and there were some giggles and stutters (uh oh!). The conference started off with a base question from Joe (our helpful governor), which was answered nicely. The question was: If you were the next PM how would you benefit the school? Solomon Rigg leader of the Greener is Greater party (Deputy – Joseph Meadowcroft) responded with making the school a greener place (obviously Greener is Greater) and helping the environment.

Arjanit Isufi, leader of the Orange Energy party (Deputy – Ronita and Aoife) said raising money with fundraisers and injuries happening less . Rapping Reds leader, Suki Fitzwilliam (Deputy – Louis Reynolds) mentioned keeping the school healthy (as well as the environment), getting through the schools budget cuts and making it a happier place. Ashleigh Hunt leader of the Purple Power Party (Deputy – Gus Leung Skinner) answered keeping it clean and getting through the school budget cuts . Ahlaam Sayid of the Sky High Blues (Deputy – Honor Whitehead - Brookes) stated raising money for the school. All the candidates mentioned helping to get through the school budget cuts .

Then the press team (Rose, Karmelle, Megan, Macy, Nancy, Ivy, Aamina , Meg, Maggie , Fatima, Fahima, Oasis, Alex Parry and Sumon) asked the candidates a few questions but then it was the audiences turn to ask questions; that's when the stutters came out .Well done audience! However, they managed to recover it well. When asked, Alex Cruse, Y6 teacher, stated that her favourite was Arjanit from Orange Energy because he was strong and spoke very well as well as having good ideas. Her second favourite was Ahlaam from Sky High Blues because she also explained her ideas effectively. Apparently, Alex C. was slightly concerned about the other candidates not being clear enough. That's it - more news coming soon.

OVERHEARD!

The party leaders ...

GETTING ALONG!

At nine forty today the five party leaders were spotted laughing and discussing matters ... Is there no rivalry ?
maybe.

Sources tell us that they were in fact being helped by resourceful governor JOE! He was telling them the questions that they were going to be asked at the press conference.
Do you think that is cheating ?

Poster WAR!

As you may have seen, many posters have been put up around the school persuading you to vote for certain parties. It seems, however, that some people have a problem with it. Red posters have been found ripped on the floor! Green posters have been mysteriously replacing orange posters. And, now orange seem to be out for revenge, doing the same! Will the war ever end?... BY NANCY, AAMINA, KARMELLE
